News Notes and Gossip of Washington Smart Set

Many Entertainments Are Planned by the Leaders of Society in Washington. Gossip of Hostesses.

Brig. Gen. Albert L. Mills, who, with Mrs. Mills, has been making a round of visits in New England and who was recently the guest of Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson at their summer home at Southampton, L. I., returned to Washington last evening. Mrs. Mills is at present in Atlantic City, and will not reach home for another week.

Dr. and Mrs. William Holland Wilmer have made announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Rebekah, to Thomas A. Scott Thropp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thropp, of this city, which has been rumored for some time. Miss Wilmer made her debut in Washington three years ago, and became a belle before her first winter was over She is one of the most beautiful girls in Washington's smart set, and is noted for her exquisite coloring. Her father, Dr. Wilmer, is the noted oculist. Mr. Thropp is the son of former Congressman Thropp of Pennsylvania, who has large iron interests in the State, and who has a handsome Washington residence at R and Twentleth streets. No date has been set for the wedding.

date has been set for the wedding.

A triple wedding, at which three brides and bridegrooms were united in marriage with one ceremony, was one of the most interesting events of yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at Foundry M. E. Church, where, at 5:30 o'clock, Miss Ruth Barradurker of Mr. Louis P. Barr, became the bride of Mr. Clarence P. Lewis, Miss Mildred E. Clarke became the bride of Mr. Clarence P. Lewis, Miss Mildred E. Clarke became the bride of Mr. Clarence P. Lewis, Miss Mildred E. Clarke became the bride of Mr. Bert Lee Smelker, and Miss Hilda Cross was married to Mr. George Foster.

The Rev. Clarence Wise, pastor of the lowa Avenue M. E. Church, officiated in the absence of the pastor of Foundry. Each couple had their own attendants. Miss Florence M. Blackburn was bridesmald for Miss Carke, Harry Masman was best man for Mr. Lewis; Miss Cross and Joseph A. Sawyer was best man for Mr. Smelker, Mrs. Zoe A. Strawn was matron of honor for Miss Cross and Joseph A. Sawyer was best man for Mr. Foster. Harold H. Minner, Ray Stuntz, and Clarence H. Freark were ushers. All the brides and bridegrooms, all the attendants, and the attending clergymen have been associated together for some years in the church and Sunday school work of Foundry Church. They will all return and make their homes here and continue in the church work.

They all wore their traveling costumes and went from the church to the station. The wedding music was played by Mr. Fowler, and Mrs. Harold Miner, formerly of New Befford, Mass., sang several solos preceding the ceremony. The church was picturesquely decorated with palms, ferns and oak leaves.

The pall wore their traveling costumes of the long mist for the strains of the Lohengrin wedding music and the complex of the strains of the Lohengrin wedding music and the complex of the strains of the lohengrin wedding music and the complex of the strains of the lohengrin wedding music and the strains of the lohengrin wedding music and the strain of the lohengrin wedding music and the

All the brides carried white asters and all their attendants had showers of pink roses. They all left immediately for their wedding trips, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Smelker going northward to Buffalo and Niagara and Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster leaving by the evening host for Old and Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster leaving by the evening boat for Qld Point Comfort and Virginia Beach. After visiting Niagara and Buffalo on their return from Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Smelker will separate in Buffalo, the former couple going to Wellsville, N. Y., and Genesee, Pa., to visit Mr. Lewis' relatives and old home, and Mr. and Mrs. Smelker going to Detroit and Freeport, Mich., to visit his family and former home.
